Bird Watching along The Pend Oreille River Valley

Pend Oreille County enjoys four seasons in this most spectacular north and east corner of Washington. It's an attractive year-round destination for people, birds and wildlife. Permanent residents include Great Blue Heron, Eagles, Hawks, and shorebirds. Tundra swan migrate through the Valley, resting on Calispel Lake and the River to feed. Many different species of duck can be seen. Bald Eagles and Osprey have a strong presence on the Pend Oreille River as well. Mountains and miles of scenic coastline encourage a diverse bird and wildlife population, no matter what time of year you visit! The Pend Oreille County Park offers a wonderful location from which to watch a wide variety of birds, local and migrating. We have 273 species of birds, so bring the binoculars and while away some time in this pleasant place.
